OKLAHOMA

Enid High School, established in 1894, whose first graduating class was in 1898, is proud to salute Oklahoma, admitted in 1907, in its semi-centennial year. As Oklahoma has progressed from Teepees to Towers, Enid High School has advanced from grammar to guidance, from a graduation class of two in 1898, to one of two hundred and ninety-three in 1957, from a curriculum of twelve subjects to one of sixty-four. Enid High School's growth has been in keeping with the growth of Oklahoma, which in the realm of science, agriculture, industry, and transportation has been phenomenal.

As a part of Oklahoma's greatest resource, her people, and particularly her forward-looking youth whose responsibility it will be to continue this progress, Enid High School students are appreciative of the challenge Oklahoma heritage has given them.

"Toward Happier Living," theme of the 1957 yearbook, brings to mind a person who is the driving force and backbone of Enid High and the influence of whose personality has made this year and every year happier for all of the students.

D. Bruce Selby, E.H.S. principal, through his enthusiastic leadership, academic concern, interest in every athletic endeavor and in all extracurricular activities, has made high school days "Happier Living."

Loved for his interest in people, his vigorous friendliness is all inclusive and generates that indefinable school spirit for which Enid High is noted.

To D. Bruce Selby, pioneer, builder, leader, friend and counselor to hundreds of students through thirty-three years of service to the youth of this community as instructor, coach, and principal, successively, we respectfully dedicate this book.

— THE STAFF

Mr. Duckett

To one of the nicest teachers in ever known in Enid High School in biology I hope to see you as years go by.

A spacious, well stocked library is a must to maintain the standard of cultural development achieved in Enid High School. Over 9,000 volumes adorn the shelves.

Enid High School boasts a beautiful auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,500 persons who have enjoyed dignitaries, political leaders, famous entertainers, and renowned speakers as well as the most prized assemblies of Enid High's own Student Body.

The architecture of Enid High School is an ageless Modern Gothic style. It combines the beautiful European columns of the Medieval ages with the practicabilities of modern construction.

Mr. Duckett -

I have enjoyed very much being in your class this year. You have always seemed to keep it interesting with some of your own experiences and etc. Although I've enjoyed your class I sure hope I'm not in it next year. !!! Lots of luck Mr. Duckett and keep up your wonderful sense of humor.

Joyce Murphy

Mr. Duckett -

I've certainly enjoyed the privilege of being in your Biology class. You've managed to make it a very interesting subject. Good luck in your teaching of future students & be sure to keep them lined up. (m) Paul Bell

GUIDANCE

Guidance has long been an inevitable part of teaching. Each teacher is a private guidance counselor to her students. Before the inauguration of the new guidance department the administrators and teachers provided the only counseling the Enid Schools had. Now school children of all ages have counseling and guidance through the Enid School's new guidance department set up under the direction of Howard Chinn, Enid High School psychologist; Mrs. Nelle McCreary, Dean of Girls, and Kenneth Sorey, junior high and elementary school psychologist.

Student groups like these were often completing tests in the guidance office.

Mr. Duckett
I have enjoyed being in your class
this. I appreciate the wonderful job
of teaching me that you have done. See you next year.
Lots of love to you

Mr. Selby explains Student Directory to Tommy Lansden, Sophomore President and Susan Scot, Sophomore Secretary

Introducing a comprehensive testing program to serve the students of Enid schools was one of the main objectives of the Guidance Department during this first year in which an office was officially set up. Students spent many hours seeking advice on their own potential aptitudes as indicated by various tests, made inquiries about scholarships, financial opportunities in various vocations, professional requirements, and problems of personal adjustment to economic as well as social situations.

Aim kept constantly in mind was more complete training for better adjusted lives.

Enid High Provides Relaxation

Shining hats accented with beautifully grained stair cases give students to enjoy thoroughly every phase of school life.

Mr. John Provost's home room enters into a farewell cake party in the cafeteria a frequent happening with student groups at Enid High.

The well lighted roomy library provides a quiet place for study or the more relaxed reading of a number of magazines in a comprehensive field of subject matter.

ed Happy Atmosphere

Janice Munn and her date Raymond Hendon exhibit their special dance step at one of the dances held monthly in the cafeteria.

One of the rear hall stairways leading to the cafeteria or to the cafeteria door west of the southeast part of the building.

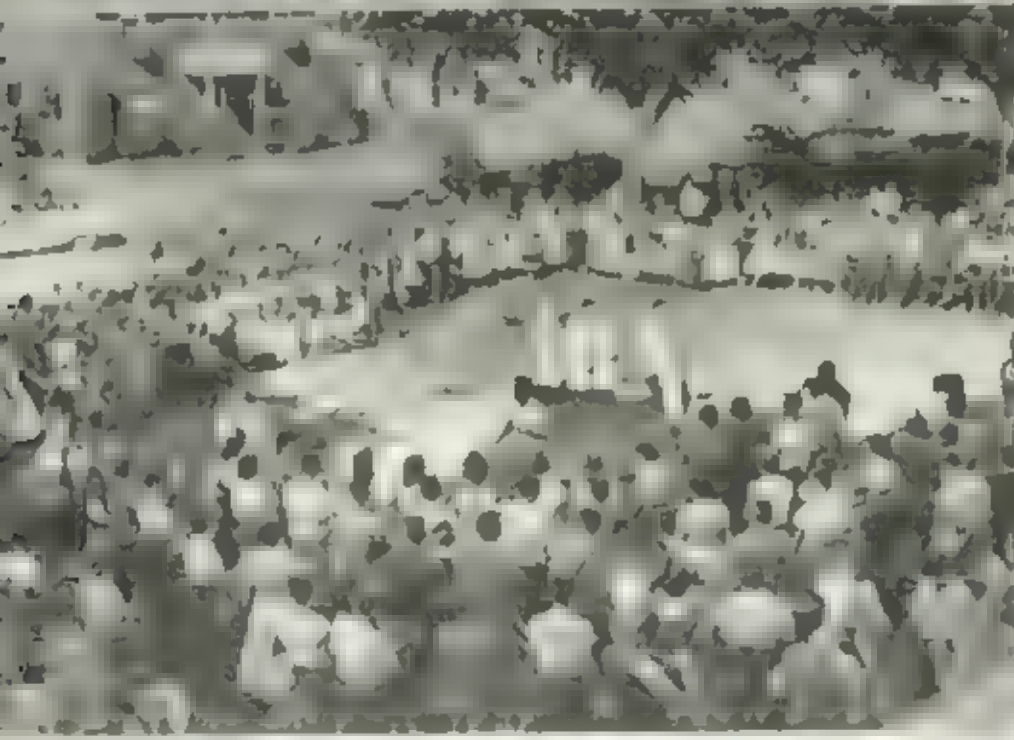

Parents and friends of End High School students swarm the halls and classrooms each Open House night given annually as an observance of American Education Week.

I can say for some of our school classes. You made Biology interesting and Toward Happier Living not too hard to understand. ADMINISTRATION

Responsibility for administering the Enid School system rested upon the Enid Board of Education whose duties included hiring the superintendent, Mr. DeWitt Waller, the principals, and all of the teaching personnel.

Composed of seven citizens of Enid elected without pay for four year terms, three members and one at large being elected every two years, the group rendered many hours of public service in behalf of the schools of Enid.

Headed by R. F. Hayes, President, and Delma Schrock, Vice-president, other members were Al Braithwaite, Edith Pinkerton, Cleo Fisher, Ted Coldiron, and Casey Cohlma.

Seven standing committees handled the different divisions of the school system. They were: Teacher Committee, Casey Cohlma, Chairman, and Edith Pinkerton and Al Braithwaite, members. Chairman of the Purchasing Committee was Delma Schrock with Cleo Fisher and Ted Coldiron, members. Al Braithwaite was Chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee with Cleo Fisher and Edith Pinkerton, members. The Chairman of the Custodian Committee was Ted Coldiron with members Casey Cohlma and Delma Schrock. Chairman of the Finance Committee was Edith Pinkerton, and Al Braithwaite and Ted Coldiron were members. The Insurance Committee headed by Cleo Fisher included Casey Cohlma and Delma Schrock. The Sites Committee Chairman was Cleo Fisher and Ted Coldiron and Delma Schrock, members.

The regular meeting was the first Monday in every month, but the board met several extra times during the month for special meetings.

In the Summer of 1956 additions and improvements were made to three elementary schools.

One of the biggest events during the year was the calling of the one million six hundred fifty thousand dollar bond election. This bond provided for the building of a new Junior High and an extension on to Longfellow Jr. High. The board let the contract for the remodeling of Longfellow and for the new Junior High at Cleveland and Randolph Road.

Students of Enid High appreciated the excellent building and numerous modern facilities made available to them by the citizens of Enid and administered through the Board of Education.

DeWitt Waller, superintendent, combines a scholarly mind with a pleasing manner, sincere humility, and skilled efficiency in heading a smoothly operating school system.

D. Bruce Selby, principal, supervises the numerous details in operating a modern, efficient high school, with an enthusiasm that is captivating.

PHYSICS CLUB

Highlighting the Physics Club's program for the year was the approximately twenty-five entries in the Phillips Science Fair.

Projects ranging from solar-powered radios and wind turbines to experiments of various equipment took varied amounts of time.

First of the club's meetings was given by Mr. Smith showing slide films of projects and giving the background of science fairs.

Other meetings have been two representatives from Chenoweth and Green Music Co. who disassembled one of their organs for the group.

and other speakers showing interest in science.

Several Physics students also entered the Regional Science Fair at Alva. Seven of these entries placed making them eligible for the State Science Fair. Jim Karkley is the grand winner in the Senior High Division, placing superior in Biology. Bob Tyler and Bernie Mayer placed superior in Physical Science. Jack Wall and Jim Osborne won superior in group exhibit in Physical Science. Mike Leavelle and Gary Easton placed excellent in Physical Science.

DELTA THETA CLUB

The Delta Theta Club was a mathematics club with its membership consisting of all the students enrolled in the senior mathematics course, trigonometry and solid geometry. The organization met once every two weeks during class periods. The activities consisted of speeches pertaining to mathematics given each meeting by different members.

The aim of the club was to give its members a broader view of the science of mathematics; its history and extent; its responsibility in the scientific world of today, especially in such fields of endeavor as engineering, astronomy, architecture, and the many technical professions.

Officers were elected early in October for the first semester while the second semester officers were elected in February. Miss Florel Helama was the sponsor.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The Chemistry Club, composed of eighty-five members, was an organization banded together for the furtherance of the science of Chemistry in Enid High.

Early this school year Marvin Myers, Chemistry teacher and sponsor of the Chemistry Club, called a meeting of his Chemistry students for the purpose of organization of the 1957 group. The club elected Bill Green, president; John Cromwell, vice-president; Charlene Williams, secretary; and Steve Cool, treasurer.

Club activities started with a guided trip through Enid's water purification plant. In the second of the extra-curricular meetings Professor B. Kenneth Lewis, head of Phillips University Science Department, spoke on the "World of the Atom" after which he conducted the future scientists on a tour through the science building of the University, giving particular emphasis to the Chemistry lab.

Final trip was made in April when the members visited the Champlin Refinery.

PALETTE CLUB

The Palette Club consisted of fifty-one members of the Art classes banded together for the purpose of fostering further interest in art. Local artists were guest speakers at the meetings giving demonstrations of painting, sculpture, commercial art, and fashion design.

Under the guidance of Miss Katherine Biles the club held its first meeting in December at the home of Tom Boston. The meeting consisted of a buffet supper followed by a lecture and book review by Mrs. George Howard Wilson.

The second meeting featured Mrs. Ruth Ranson who showed color slides of Rocky Mountain scenes which he had painted. After the meeting refreshments were served.

A March meeting of the Palette Club heard Professor E. A. Randolph of Phillips University who presented a lecture on the art of making murals and demonstrated a technique of painting with different types of glue.

The club took a picnic to the University of Texas. The book Mexican Murals by George F. Hart was financed from the proceeds made from concessions at the football games.

THESPIAN CLUB

A get-acquainted party at Kay Mason's started the Thespian '56-'57 year. Chuck Page was introduced as president; Kay Mason, vice president; Sue Matlack, secretary, and B. I. Green, treasurer. Claudia Shannon was clerk while Bob Bish and Derel Schrock served as senior representatives and Kay Creed as junior representative. Glenda Braithwaite was social chairman and Walt Bowart, reporter. A standing ovation was given Mrs. Delyte Ponder, who has served as Thespian sponsor for two highly successful years.

In an impressive, formal ceremony, sixty new members were initiated on March 11, making the total membership one hundred and twenty-five. At the initiation it was stressed that the purpose of Thespians was to promote the advancement of dramatic arts in the secondary schools. A reception and dance was held after the ceremony in the school cafeteria for the new members and their parents.

For the first time in E. H. S. Thespian's history a Thespian recital was given. On March 25, three one-act plays were presented; 'The chanted Night," the fantasy which was taken to state after qualifying at the Northwestern State Teachers College Regional Tournament. Carol Baker and Tim McCook were given best actress and actor awards at this tournament.

"Three on a Bench," a comedy, which was rated excellent at the O. C. U. Tournament was also given along with "The Special Guest," a drama.

The climax of the Thespian year was the Thespian play, "A Man Called Peter," given April 19.

The sixth active year of Thespians was closed with the banquet given for senior Thespians by junior members. At this banquet awards were given to all senior honor Thespians earning over forty points and special awards to the best Thespian boy and girl. The Thespians gave awards to the best actress and actor in each play. The program consisted of installation of the new officers for next year, followed by a musical and a dance selection and "F.H.S. '57 Plays in Review."

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

The F.F.S. Chapter of N.F.F. is the chapter of being the number one N.F.F.
Chapter in the United States.

N.F.F. is a scholastic literary speech organization composed of students enrolled in speech and debate in its varied activities participation in various speech tournaments throughout the state and host the State Speech Contest in the spring.

Eight N.F.F. members qualified for the state contest attending the Student Congresses.

Scholarships were given by the National Forensic League to the senior student who earned the most service points throughout the year.

The state tournament sponsored by Mrs. E. W.
Voght, has been one of the leading N.F.F. Chapters in the Nation since 1922.

JUNIOR TOWN MEETING

The Junior Town Meeting group had a busy year with its main objective to participate in a weekly radio program sponsored alternately by KCRC and KOWA. Small groups from the organization met with other schools to debate and discuss topics of current local, state, and national interest performing a public service while developing the skills of discussion. The club's membership was made up of forty interested students of social science and speech.

Twenty-five members of the Debate class met frequently together for the purpose of participating in academic, judicial, and legislative debate. The Debate Club had no meeting other than the usual class period, but took five trips to various Debate meets held at Phillips University Northwestern State Teachers College, Alva, Oklahoma City University, and Northeastern State Teachers College at Tahlequah. The Debate Club played host at the annual N.E.J. Congress held at Ford High School.

STUDENT COUNCIL

An enthusiastic Student Council was the originator of several projects put into effect this year. Among these were English First Edition, a student Directory, the book, a Caterpillar Menu Bulletin, Counseling Committees on student behavior, and a Valentine party for the teachers.

Other activities handled by the council were

Open House, student elections, Sadie Hawkins Week, and guests from Shaw Exchange Assembly, and presenting an assembly program.

Representatives attending the Student Council conference at Lawton were David Warren, Sara Benchel, Barbara Bernstein, and Johnny Walker, President.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION CLUB

"To work we go," was the theme song of the DE Club students. Besides working many activities highlighted the school year. A banquet for employers of the DE and DO students; a state convention at Stillwater, Oklahoma; and a national convention at Oklahoma City were the formal activities. The informal parties were the Halloween picnic and hay rack ride.

Mary Ellen Tummus, senior, was crowned queen at the annual Christmas party. The club held monthly meetings with a variety of guest speakers.

DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATIONS CLUB

The D.O.-D.E. classes had charge of the concessions for the first two home football games. Most of the profits went for the D.O.-D.E. Employer-Employee Banquet which was held at the Youngblood Hotel on November 15, 1951.

Two other events which marked the D.O. year were the picnic and hamburger fry held at Meadowlake Park and the Christmas party held just before the Christmas vacation to collect gifts for the needy.

LES COPIANS CLUB

The purpose of Les Copians was to promote interest in the French speaking people their country and their culture. All students enrolled in second year French were members.

Meetings were held once every two weeks.

During these meetings different members gave the programs which consisted of speeches, movies, and skits. At the end of the year a French Club banquet was held which included a French menu.

VERGILIAN CLUB

The Vergilian Club composed of twelve members for the entire third year Latin class met every other week throughout the year. Included in these bi-weekly meetings were articles and skits prepared by the members pertaining to Roman history and myths.

The club held their annual banquet in the Court Ballroom of the Young Men's Club. Highlighting the evening the advanced students were entertained by the personal skits made up of pupils and the first two skits were Latin plays. The banquet was the climax of the year ending the club activities in a truly Roman manner.

LA JUNTA CLUB

Let's go to a party! These words seemed to be on the lips of all Spanish students this year. Get-togethers were styled after those given south of the border. Highlighting the La Junta activities were a Pinata Christmas party and a Mexican dinner. Other features included guest speakers at the monthly club meetings. Chief aim of the group was to inform students of Spanish-speaking countries and people.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club, consisting of thirty-three members, worked diligently during the past year on numerous ways for improving the library and its services.

Along with the business which was conducted each Wednesday during homeroom, the library assistants enjoyed several parties such as the "Teachers Tea" given in the fall and the Christmas Party at which each member contributed a toy for the Salvation Army.

Froid High had the distinction of being the first and only high school in Oklahoma to have a Book Charging Machine.

FUTURE TEACHERS

The Future Teachers of America Club, sponsored by Mr. Ray Farrant, met the first and third Thursdays of each month.

The organization, consisting of twenty-two members, participated in many activities, including a visit to the End State School and the Phillips University Education Department.

Social activities included a "get acquainted" party, a banquet, a two-day trip to the state convention at Chickasha and an outing in May. They also put on numerous assemblies.

FUTURE NURSES

Pulse, please! These girls received first hand experiences by the sponsorship of the Ladies Medical Auxiliary, composed of doctors' wives. The two selected for this year were Mrs. Charles J. Roberts and Mrs. Leland Shrvock.

Future Nurses took field trips to Vance Hospital and the Physical Therapy department at St. Mary's Hospital.

At regular after-school meetings, Future Nurses heard talks from student nurses and supervisors from the General and St. Mary's Hospitals.

MACHINE SHOP

Thirty-two members of vocational machine shop attended daily three hour classes in the well kept factory of Mr. Robert Pyle's mechanical shop. Classes learned the operation of the engine lathe, shaper, milling machine, band saw, planer, grinder, cutter, tool grinder, and reamer, also, they learned to read blueprints and blueprint reading.

"A 4-H club member always strives for the betterment of the community's lives." 4-H, which means hands, heart, health and head, strives to better the lives of all through city and county-wide drives and organizational works.

In keeping with that national objective, local club members took part in showing their skill in raising domestic and farm animals, making clothing, preparing foods and their skill also in driving tractors at county and state fairs. On these occasions 4-H'ers experienced worthwhile activities which would benefit them the remainder of their lives.

Y-TEEN CLUB

This Y-Teen Club was organized in 1934, making it one of the oldest in the city.

In 1934, the Y-Teen Club held regular meetings and monthly suppers. At Halloween, the members of the Hi-Y took girls at a Halloween Party.

HI-Y CLUB

Hi-Y was a YMCA club in the city. It was organized to create, maintain, and extend the Y spirit in the home, school and community. It stood for Christian character and service to young men of America for the year.

Many social functions and parties were held throughout the year and now combine parties including the Sadie Hawkins Party at the Y.W.C.A., Sherman to Stars and Danny Bowls, named as Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner.

Since Hi-Y was believed that a small group of boys in the Hi-Y Club at Junior High School was composed of two clubs, the Keweenaw Aces, each with a membership of 10.

GIRLS' STATE AND BOYS' STATE

After coming back from Norman and Chickasha, the E.H.S. Girl and Boy Staters enthusiastically told the entire school about their experiences and the ideals they learned about citizenship and government. Attending lectures, much was learned about the way the finest government in the world is run. Such outstanding speakers were heard as Governor Gary, "Cowboy" Pink Williams, Granville Scanland, and the late Alfred Hunt, Judge of the State Supreme Court.

Having been organized in the late spring of '56, the Braves boasted a membership of forty boys. Bobby Linderer, Steve Cool, Dick Teurman, and Rowland Carter were elected to lead the group in organized yell.

They supported the team in all athletic events, at assemblies, and worked in close cooperation with the Bravette cheerleaders.

Club members wore white coveralls with a blue Indian head design on the pocket, with Braves in blue letters on the back, were the cheerleaders' uniforms, while other members wore white shirts

SHUTTERBUGS CLUB

With flashes popping to Shutterbugs pictured their way through the '56-'57 school year.
The highlight of the year was the Annual High School Photographic Contest, which several of the students entered.

The Shutterbugs, sponsored by Mr. Jewel Ridge, had their own dark room where they developed and enlarged their own photographs.

Although their actual meetings were few they were free to use the dark room at any time.

CHESS CLUB

Two students sit at a table, all is quiet in the room, the seconds tick by into minutes—five, ten, fifteen minutes. Slowly one moves a queen on a chess board and says "Check."

This was the story of the Fnd High newly founded chess club.

The group, sponsored by Mr. Bernard Paulin met twice a month in homes of different members.

Purpose of this club was to contact all chess players in Fnd.

Future plans included a city-wide chess tournament.

OFFICE ASSISTANTS

The office assistants were a great help to Mrs. Florence Scott and Mrs. Shirley Wentworth this year. Each period five students were assigned to take up the attendance slips, deliver S.T.O.'s, and call slips. They also ran various errands for

Mr. Selby. When they are not busy, the office assistants may study or do their lessons. Their duties also consist of helping new students around the building and helping tabulate and sort out various items. The year was climaxed by a picnic

ACTIVITY OFFICE ASSISTANTS

Activity office assistants were kept busy each hour of the day.

Two or three students helped in the office each period, and when not doing a service for some teacher or student, they used their time to study. Students typed checks, kept books for the cafeteria, took deposits from different E.H.S. organizations, issued activity tickets, and kept the reserve seat board for plays, football games, and other school events, and ran errands in the building and downtown whenever emergencies arose.

GIRLS' RECREATION ASSOCIATION

Girls' Recreation Association was organized in 1920 as a group of athletically minded girls with sports for their hobby. Holding tournaments in both individual and team sports, the organization offered competition in volleyball, basketball, and softball for those liking group activity. For those preferring smaller groups, there were chess, tennis and table tennis contests. The association was successful in its first year, and the following year it was reorganized.

Playing is a thing so many girls like to do. It is a pleasure, and the girls of the association shorts and gave an October tea for the new members. When spring appeared on the scene the girls took to the great outdoors. Softball and tennis received hours of practice while the girls received plenty of fresh air and sunshine. G. R. A. traveled to Stillwater in April to compete in the state softball tournament. The girls of our team went to the calisthenics contest and each girl participated in each one. The day ended with a group of girls having a picnic. The girls of the association are very successful in their efforts.

AQUAETTE CLUB

Aquaette Synchronized Swimming Club, consisting of thirty-four members, was unusually active this year. In January they presented a talented assembly with an underwater atmosphere. Later the girls took acts to the Oklahoma Synchronized Swim Meet at Norman. Gerri Link was crowned queen at the water ballet late in March.

Requirements for Aquaette membership consisted of mastering nine basic strokes, three stunts, twenty-two lengths of the pool, and a front dive.

GUIDANCE OFFICE ASSISTANTS

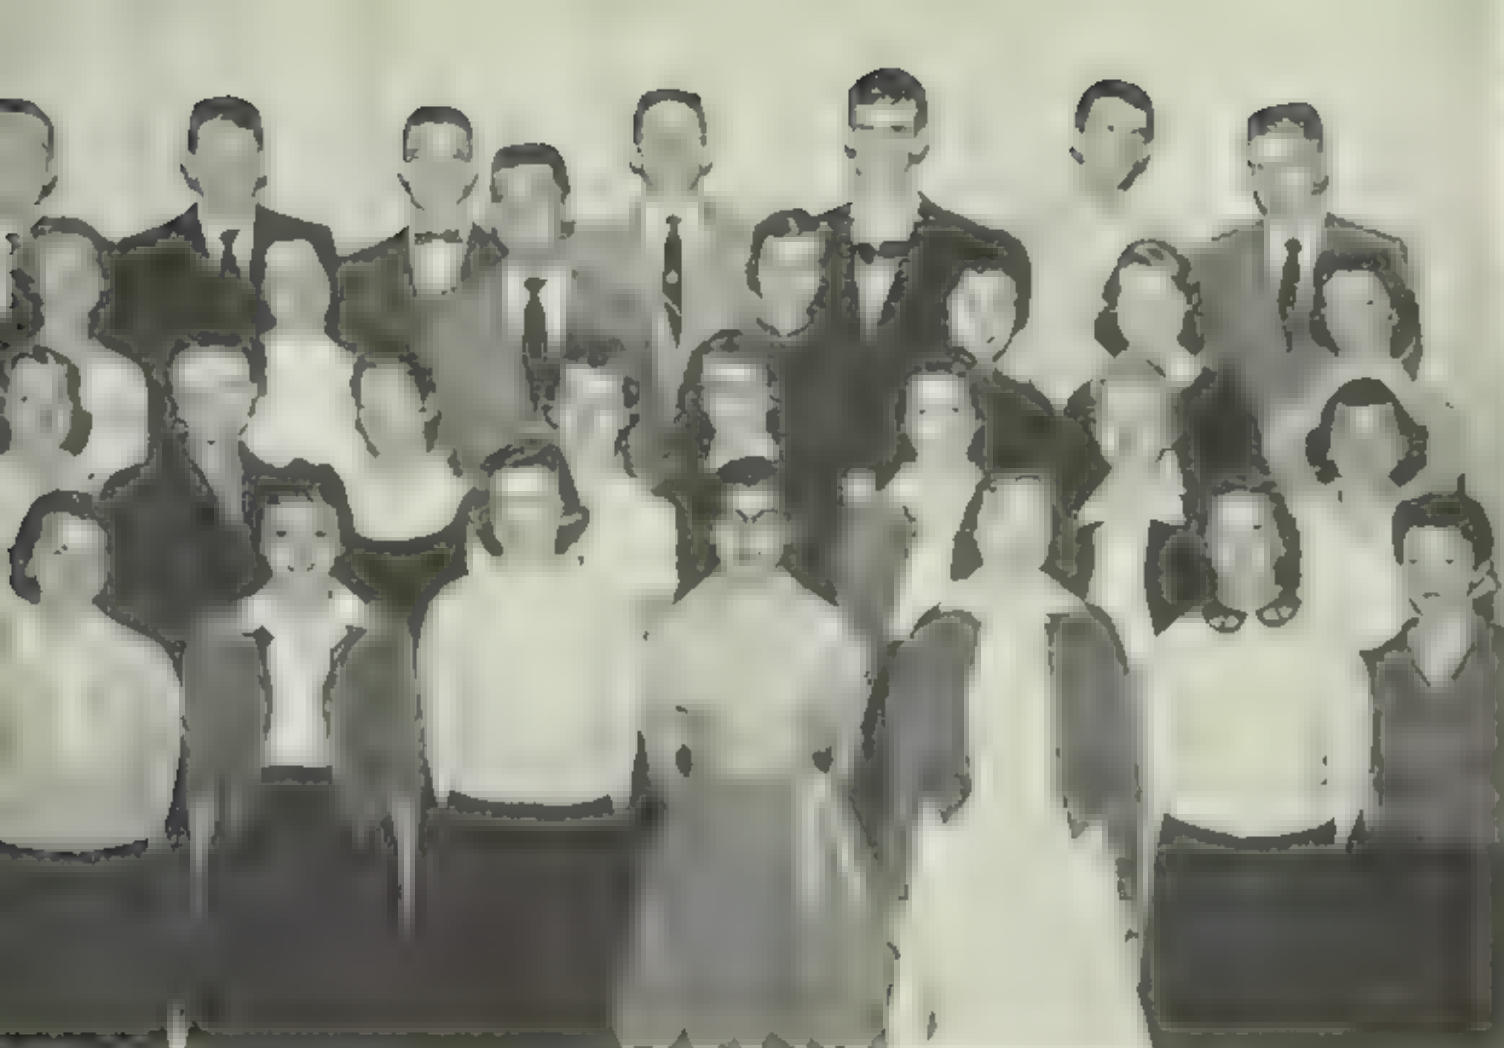

Two students each period worked in the newly inaugurated guidance office. The students worked as assistants, volunteering for the job in place of a regular study hall. Duties of the assistants fell under the categories of typing, running errands, and grading mental alertness and aptitude tests.

Under the direction of Howard Chinn, with the assistance of Mrs. Nellie McCreary, the office conducted placement and general guidance.

JOURNALISM CLUB

"What's new in reporting?" was the cry of the Journalism Club members at F.H.S.

Journalism Club, composed of sixty students enrolled in Journalism, under the sponsorship of Miss Ruth Scott, held their monthly meeting at the high school. Each meeting featured a speaker interested in some phase of communications. Among them were: Casey Cohlman, who explained the differences in the reporting and editing of news on television and in the newspaper; Mr. and Mrs. Miklos Suzucs Nicolson and their son Leslie, from Hungary, who presented an interesting mass interview on the customs and conditions in that country, and A. J.

"Dutch" Strauss, Managing Editor of the Indie News and Eagle, who told of the opportunities offered in the newspaper field.

One of the social activities was a Christmas dinner party held in the high school cafeteria. Led by the president, Walt Bowart, the club sang songs and played games.

One of the club projects was a tour of the Indie News and Eagle offices, where they observed the intricate steps in the printing of a newspaper.

QUILL ANNUAL STAFF

Unsung historians of End High were the members of the 1957 QUILL Annual Staff who recorded for posterity the events of the changing high school culture and curriculum.

This year the staff was under the sponsorship of Miss Ruth Scott and Mrs. Nelie McCreary, worked long, hard hours in forming a memory book for the students of End High.

Result of their efforts is displayed in the pages of this book. They have tried to recapture for every End High School student the story of his high school life.

Mrs. McCreary explained ad layouts to Darrel Schrock while Miss Scott and Kay Mosley, co-editor, discussed year book style.

SECOND SEMESTER STUDENT COUNCIL

Second semester found the Student Council carrying on the '57 tradition of "firsts."

The first teacher-council Valentine party was held in the cafeteria. Each teacher was given an appropriate valentine, and Miss Moore, sponsor, was presented with a heart-shaped pillow autographed by all the representatives.

Carrying on the tradition of "firsts," the Student Council was in charge of election of Traffic Court officials for the first time. Nominations were made by the council officers and class presidents and voted on by the entire council.

EMPLOYER-EMPLOYEE BANQUET

One of the most looked-forward-to social events of the year was the DE-DO Employer-Employee Banquet. This year former Senator Josh Lee, prominent Oklahoma City lawyer, addressed the many employees and their employers, school officials, state officials of the clubs, and the faculty. Mr. Lee spoke on the subject of salesmanship and the right approach for the salesman. He was introduced by Leroy Overstreet, DE president and master of ceremonies.

Wade Chambers, '56 graduate and national DE president, gave the welcome speech to the guests. Larry Dilldine, DO president, rec'd the response.

This sixteenth annual banquet was held November 15 in the Youngblood Hotel. Another DE member present at the banquet, later receiving an honor, was Miss Mary Ellen Timmis, who represented Enid DE Club in the queen contest at the state convention, being one of five finalists.

Although the 1957 season was not the most glorious year in Plainsmen history, the boys never stopped fighting, sometimes against heavy odds. The Plainsmen ended their season with a record of two wins, seven losses, and a tie. Even so, the losses were hard fought and the Plainsmen vividly displayed their "unconquerable spirit in defeat."

This year's team was led by an entirely remodeled coaching staff headed by Kansas mentor Marvin Vandaveer, who was chosen "Coach of the Week" by the Oklahoma City Times. Backing him up as assistant coaches were Jack Webb, line coach; Bill Brown, end coach; and John Walor, assistant line coach and leader of the B-squad.

Through the efforts of a good coaching staff and the undying backing of the entire squad this year's Plainsmen produced two athletes with outstanding recognition. All Mid-State honors went to Charles Page, right guard, while Plainsmen quarterback Jerry Keeling, with his outstanding ball handling and sure footedness, sidestepped his way to a position on the All Mid-State team as well as the All State eleven and an opportunity to play in the Memphis H. S. All-American North-South game.

To test their strength the Plainsmen came against what was acclaimed to have been the toughest line in the state when they opened the season against the Midwest City Bombers. Although the Plainsmen controlled most of the ball game, they could not score at the right times and were thrown for a 16-0 loss.

week. Things looked bright at the half when the Plainsmen led the Dons 6-0 through the courtesy of Howard Roe. During the half the Dons had a change of heart and came charging from their dressing room bent on the destruction of the Plainsmen. This they almost did with the final score being 13-6 in favor of the Dons.

Having been brought to life by the End fans in their first home game, the Big Blue enthusiastically took on the Norman Tigers. Spurred on by some 3,500 cheering fans in Plainsman Field, Leonard Harrison, senior halfback, tore over the goal line in the second half to tie the knot in a 7 tie.

In the fourth game of the season the Plainsmen faced the under-rated Shawnee Wolves in a hopeless battle. Until late in the second period the Plainsmen had the Wolves down on a 13-0 score, but before the half ended, the Wolves had begun to fight back, making a T.D. bring the score to 13-6. In the second half the Wolves tied it up 13-13 in the third period, and then End fired back with their third and final touchdown, making it 19-13 by missing the extra point. The Wolves didn't let End stay in the lead long, making a tally and the extra point, resting the score at a heartbreaking 20-19. Contributors to our score were Larry Gregory, Jamie Brown, and a Keeling to Brown pass.

Recovering from the shock of a one point loss to Shawnee the Plainsmen took on the powerful Oklahoma City Douglass Trojans, the first all Negro opponent in the history of End High School. Highlight of the game came when a Trojan pass to left end sailed to the ten-yard line. It looked as if the Trojans had scored again, but true to his All-American form, quarterback Jerry Keeling made a great play.

handed interception high over his head and ran 90 yards for the first Emd touchdown, making the score 7-7. In the fourth quarter with the Trojans in the lead 32-7 Keeling handed off to Jamie Brown for the second and last Emd touchdown. Crowley's kick was good, and as the ball game ended, it was O. C. Douglass 39—Emd 14.

The Plainsmen journeyed to Oklahoma City to encounter the Capitol Hill Redskins in a game of mud slinging. Capitol Hill controlled most of the game as fullback James Dobson showed his running and splashing on the wet and muddy field while Emd, unaccustomed to the conditions, fumbled away. The closest the Plainsmen could get to pay dirt was the 6-yard line. Four times in the first half the Plainsmen lost the ball on fumbles—one setting up a Capitol Hill score and a second halting the Emd offensive. Final score: Capitol Hill 31, Emd 0.

With the odds against them, due to their unimpressive record, the Plainsmen took on their old rival, the Ponca City Wildcats. The game opened with Emd kicking to Ponca. Shortly after an exchange of punts Emd's defensive threat, Charles Page, recovered a fumble on the Ponca 20-yard line. Given the ball, Keeling faked two handoffs and went around left end to score. The conversion failed, and as the first quarter ended, Emd led 6-0. Soon after Ponca caught up and passed the fired-up Plainsmen, and the first half ended with the scoreboard reading 12-6 Ponca City. The second half opened with Ponca kicking to Emd, and regenerated from the half-time moments given by the coaching staff, the Plainsmen marched down the field, and Keeling ran around right end for Emd's second touchdown. The score stood at 12-12. Another score by Ponca and the Wildcats led 19-12. With 1:55 left in the third period, Keeling went over with another TD, to tie the score at 19-19 as the third period ended. With 6:05 left in the game, fullback Howard Roe drove to the three-yard line and followed with no gain. Keeling then drove off the left side for six more points. The final score was 25-19 in the Plainsmen favor.

In the eighth game of the season Find took on the powerful N. W. Classen Knights. Outstanding in the Plainsmen's attack was Howard Roe, just back into play after a bout with a bruised knee suffered in the Ponca game. Early in the first quarter Bill Humphries made a nine-yard drive to the Classen 10, Keeling kept and followed center Walt Bowart over on a quarterback sneak for an early 6-0 lead. Classen then received the kickoff on their five, and Timberlake scampered 95 yards for the tie. Then kick was good, and the first half ended with the scoreboard reading 6-6. During the half-time the spectators witnessed the crowning of the 1957 football queen, Miss Letty Goltry. Reigning with the queen as attendants were Miss Judy Denton and Miss Joan Phillips.

Hereafter Classen drew a series of penalties, making the next Find touchdown a little easier. Keeling ran around end with the score reading Find 19 - Classen 6.

Find took on former Find gridder Jim Duckett as the Plainsmen met the number five rated team in the state, El Reno on their home field. A highlight of the game was when Bill Shook early in the game, crashed through the line and captured El Reno for a ten-yard loss. In the second half Howard Roe went through the middle to score followed by a kick by Tim Crowley. The Plainsmen fought hard all the way, but the giant El Renoians (with the exception of their flyweight quarterback, Jim Preston) kept the Plainsmen to the tune of 19-6.

FOOTBALL

Friday, November 16, the Enid Plainsmen brought the 1956-57 football season to a close with the final game against the Lawton Wolverines. Having hopes for victory, built upon the surprise win over Lawton last year, the Plainsmen fell short of their goal 20 points. With 10:54 left in the first quarter Lawton marched to the Plainsmen 10. Hartline on a hand off from Salmon was caused to fumble by a crushing two man tackle made by Charles Page and Walt Bowart; Jim Langkiet grabbed the ball and ran the distance for the first Lawton touchdown. At the end of the first quarter Enid led 7-0. Early in the second quarter Enid took a hand, and as Keeling ran across the 47, he was hit by three Wolverines and received a head injury which caused him to wait out the rest of the game on the sidelines. Junior quarterback, Bob Burdick, replaced Keeling, and an intercepted pass by Roe set Enid up to score again. A Burdick to Karns pass made the score 13-13. Lawton controlled the ball the remainder of the game which ended in a Lawton victory 33-13.

The four returning lettermen this year were Jerry Keeling, Charles Page, Howard Roe, and Gene Bodes. Next year there will be thirteen returning lettermen.

Next year's team is ready to go. A regular sixth hour conditioning class has been underway all year, and the positions left by the graduating seniors have been aptly filled.

Enid High School has been in the mid-state conference for seventeen years and has four times won the championship, the last time being in 1950 when the Big Blue tied as co-champs.

Due to these circumstances, Marvin Vandaveer, new athletic director, and the coaching staff introduced a new football training program this year in hopes of building better teams for better tomorrows. Next year the Plainsmen will face the toughest schedule they have ever faced with eleven games scheduled.

The staff and prospective team know what's in store for them and have accordingly set up a training and physical achievement program. The over-all year-long program consists of weight lifting to build muscular strength, a football-track program to build speed and co-ordination, and a fundamental football program to build good habits in blocking and ball handling.

The staff is expecting a large turn-out in the fall and in accordance are planning a full Sophomore schedule, Junior varsity schedule, and varsity schedule. This will mean opportunity to play for everyone and will mean better physical conditioning for every boy out for football.

Marvin Vandaveer expects the 1957 team to be bigger, faster, and more rugged than those of previous years. Early possibilities are Wayne Jones at quarterback, Bob Burdick at halfback, and Tim Crowley as a possibility for end. The backfield will be better, bigger, and faster than what Enid has seen for many years.

Another innovation made by the new athletic department in its effort to reward deserving players, thus inspiring them to maximum effort, was the "Best Blocking Lineman" trophy to be awarded to right guard Charles Page. The front of the trophy was decorated by a statistic showing that Page had blocked more players than any other player on the team.

tem. The man making the highest percentage of good blocks in proportion to the blocks attempted would receive the trophy.

With all of these changes Marvin Vandaveer hoped to improve the football setup to the high standard for which his name is synonymous in coaching circles.

Throughout the years End High School has challenged its student body and members of athletic teams to meet the best in their class. None of End's schedules have ever contained the so-called "breather games."

The 1957 End Plainsmen basketball squad was practically a complete new organization with Coach Jim Stroup just this season taking over the position of head basketball coach. To make things more difficult, Coach Stroup had practically an all green team consisting mainly of Juniors.

The E.H.S. eagles opened their season with the tournament held annually at Borger, Texas. End met defeat in their first tilt with the powerful Borger five, 73-43, but fundamental mistakes of a green team accounted for such defeat. End returned the next night to down Lubbock, Texas, 52-47 to cop the third place trophy.

The Plainsmen won their first game of the past Christmas season from Northwest Classen 61-45. Rebounds told the difference with End's 34 to Classen's 8 for the night.

End defeated the Blackwell Maroons 40-30 before one of the largest crowds ever to witness E.H.S. play. This was due to an attendance promotion drive. End controlled the backboards the entire game. This game broke the 5-5 season tie for End.

The Plainsmen won over Capitol Hill 43-34 in a game that saw a close first half with the second half a run-away for Enid when 17 points were chalked up in the third quarter.

Enid won its eighth of the season victory over O. C. Douglass 54-43 in a close, thrilling, nip-and-tuck fight. Keeling led the scoring with 26 points to his credit.

The Enid five met defeat at the hands of Shawnee 50-46. The first half saw a close score and finally a tie as the half ended. The score was again tied in the fourth quarter 42-42, but as the last three minutes ticked off, Shawnee pulled into the lead.

One of Enid's closest games was the win over Alva 46-41, the fracas being tied ten times during the evening.

Although Enid was at one time tied for second place in the Mid-State Conference, the loss to Shawnee in the last game made them drop out of the listing.

Enid traveled to the Regional Tourney to take first place, pushing themselves into state play.

in the evening. They met Shawnee the next night, defeating them 42-39 after being down 14 points in the first period.

Enid hit the State Tournaments, defeating Duncan the first night 46-39.

The Plainsmen then took on the mighty Oklahoma City Douglass Trojans State Football Champs now making a bid for the State Basketball Crown, but the Enid Plainsmen put a stop to their plans.

At the half the Plainsmen had a 13 point lead under their belt, but with just a few seconds left in the game the Trojans tied the knot 49-49, but not before fouling Jerry Keeling, who eased the Plainsmen to a 50-49 State Championship with his well placed free throw. Keeling, Maddox, and Durham hit 11 apiece while Long was close behind with 8 to divide the high point honors.

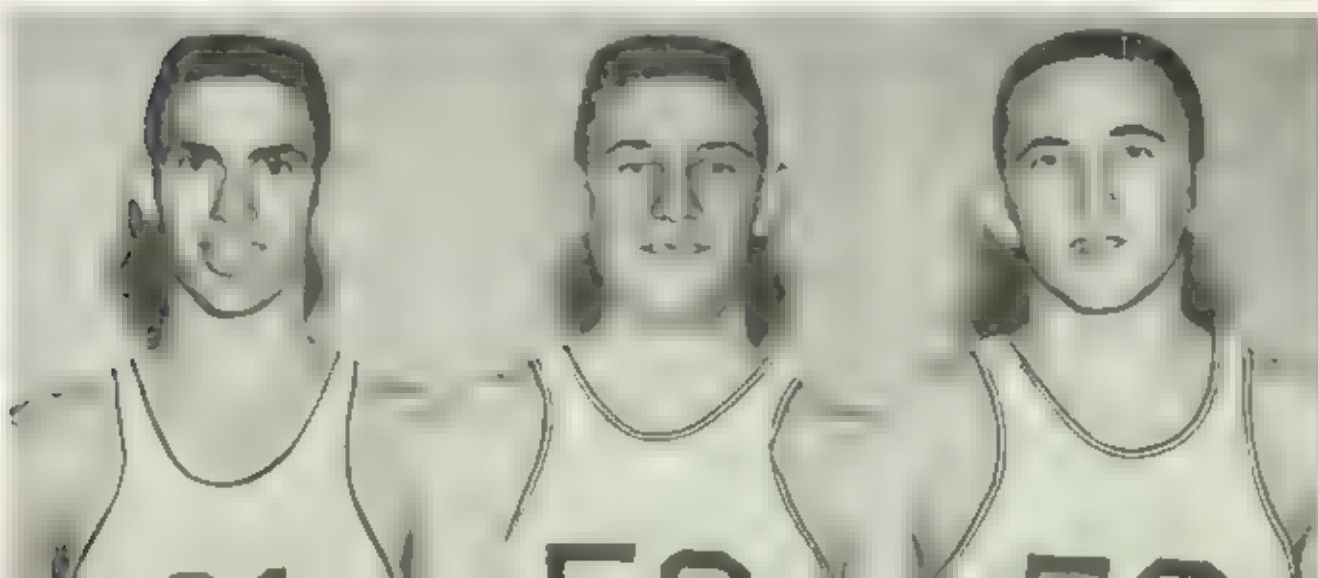

Throughout the season Keeling was the leading scorer.

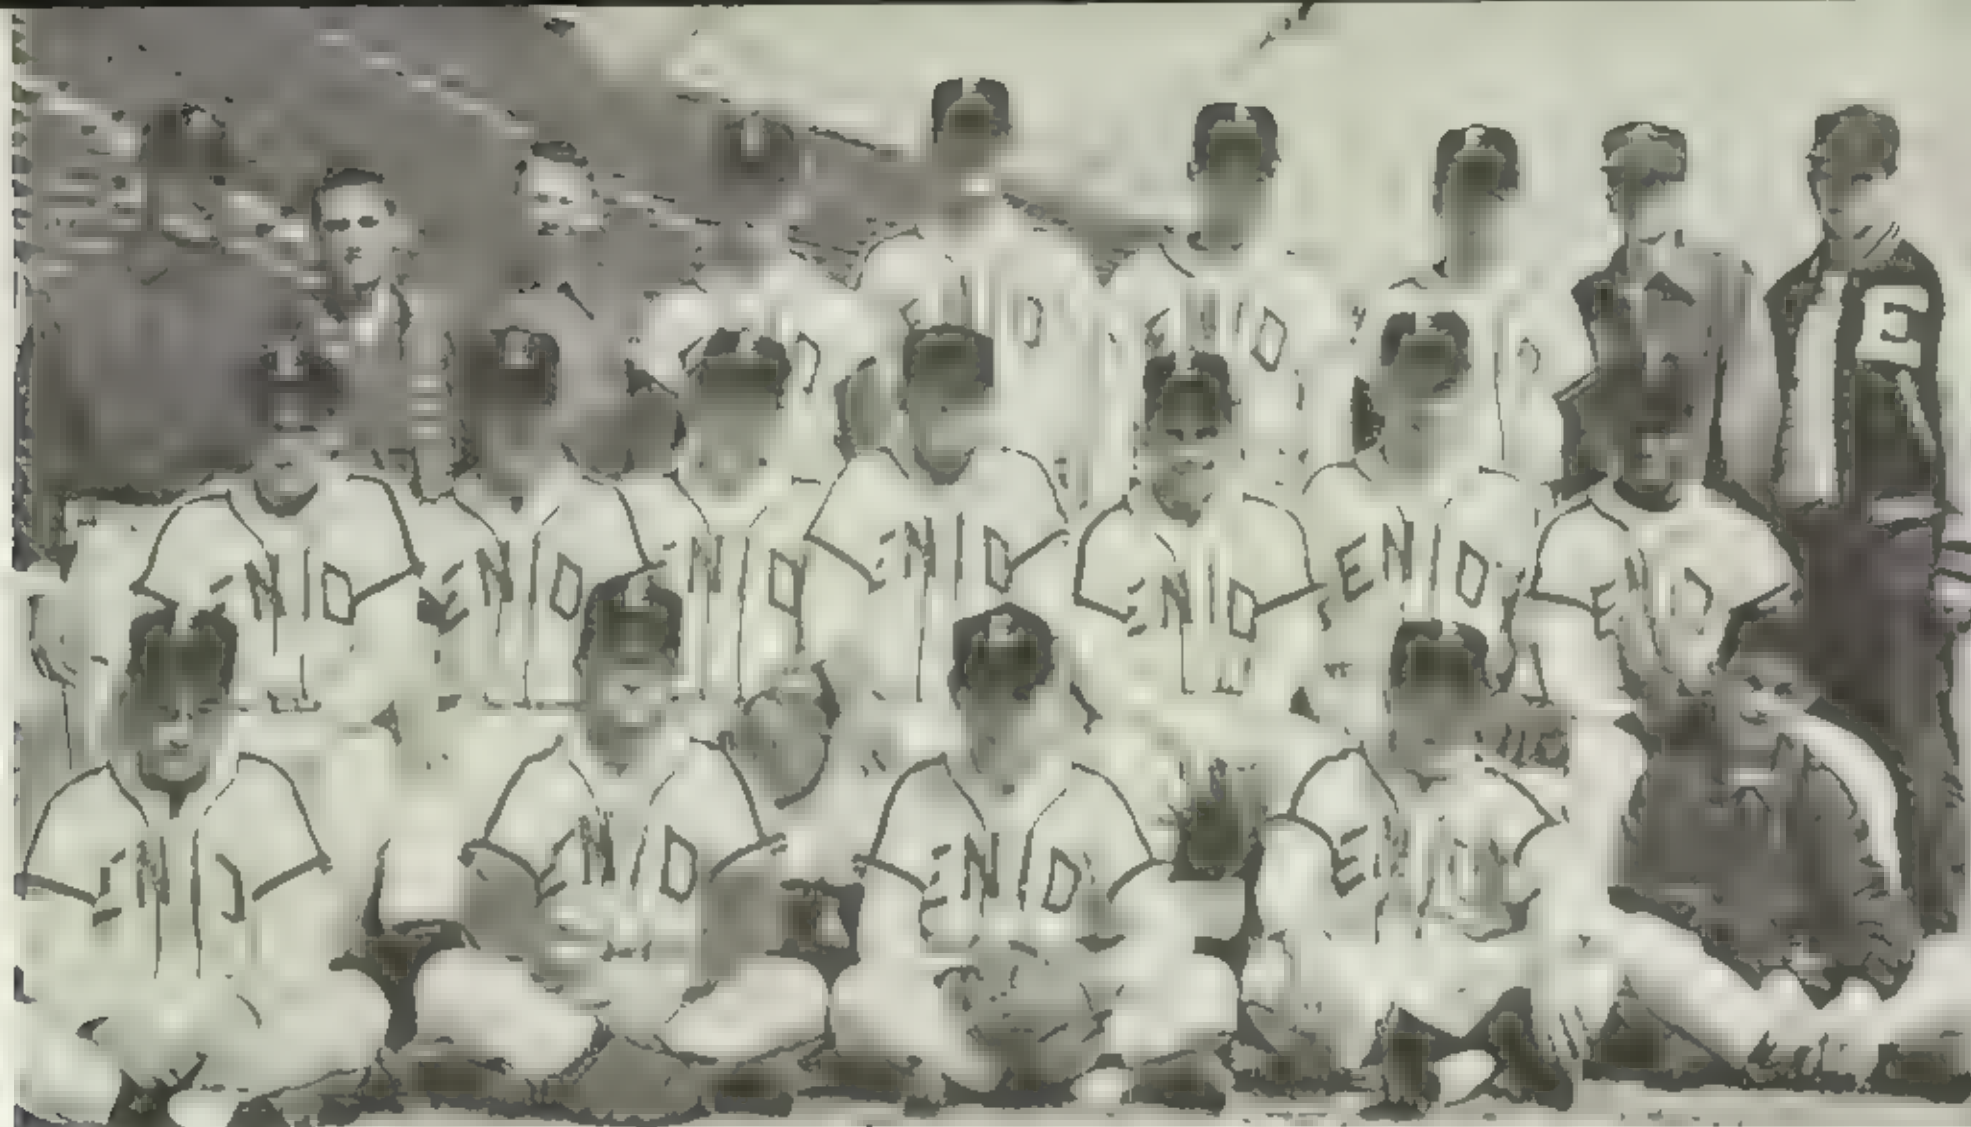

The season began with three lettermen, Carey, Keeling, and Long. Long being a Junior, along with Don Carey, Al Maddox, and Red Beck, who was expected to lead the Plainsmen next year.

BASEBALL

The F.H.S. baseball team had what might be termed a handicapped season with a completely new coaching staff and unusually inclement weather hindering both practices and games.

Coach Bill Brown led the F.H.S. diamond fighters through half of the season with 3-3 standings before repeating games with their opponents.

The season was considered to be excellent in view of the postponements due to weather, and on the night of the crowning of their lovely Spring Sports Queen, Miss Kay Mason, the game had to be postponed due to power failure. Her two charming attendants were Miss Janet Jones and Miss Jody Dozier. As they say, it was six of one or half a dozen of the other for this '57 team.

For the first game of the season the F.H.S. ball team met Garber, defeating them 14-9 with Larry Gregory pitching through the sixth inning and Bob Atkinson finishing up.

The second game of the season saw their luck still holding out as they defeated Alva 2-0 with Richard Krey doing the pitching honors.

N. W. Classen introduced defeat to the Enid team, defeating the F.H.S.'ers 1-0 in the last of the 7th. Big Bob Atkinson hurled for Enid.

Capitol Hill didn't allow Enid to get back in the win column either, defeating Atkinson's arm 4-3 in the 8th inning.

Garber did a switch on the Enid team, defeating them 3-0, a complete turn from the first game which Enid took with ease. Gary Thrasher and Richard Krey shared the mound and also the loss.

Enid met Shawnee in the first game of a double-header, defeating them 1-0 in the last of the 7th inning with Don Carey pitching to Rick Warren. The second game was postponed due to weather and power failure.

Graduating seniors who saw action this year were: 2nd baseman, Howard Roe; 3rd baseman, Jerry Keeling; 1st baseman and pitcher, Bob Atkinson; left field, Don Carey; center field, Don Karns; right field, Bob Hays; catchers, Rick Warren and Charles Page.

Heavy hitter Charles Page slams a line drive between first and second base for a two-bagger against Alva.

TRACK

With the inauguration of a new coaching system, a new track program was introduced to Enid High School's spring sports. Jack Webb, assisted by Marvin Vandaveer and John Walor, initiated a three point track program designed to build the individual trackman with the goal of a better track team in mind. Jerry Keeling was the only returning letterman. Interest in track was falling off year after year. This was the basis for Coach Webb's new plan, to interest more young athletes in coming out for the sport of the cinders.

His building program consisted first of an annual intramural class meet individually among Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors with ribbons going to the victors. As many as three events could be entered by each individual.

Secondly, Coach Webb introduced an entirely new schedule. It had formerly consisted of a few large meets and now included dual and triangular meets as well as the big relays meets such as the Aggie Relays, Tonkawa Relays, Central State Relays, the Mid-State league meet, Regional meet, and State meet.

The third and most impressive point of Coach Webb's track program was the intramural decathlon competition. The decathlon meet was a two day affair featuring ten events—the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 660 yard run, 120 yard low hurdles, 70 yard high hurdles, the broad jump, hop, step and jump, the pole vault, discus throw, and the shot put.

Five events were to be held the first day of the decathlon meet and five the second. This was to be the true and supreme test of an athlete's ability and efficiency in many events. The winner of this high school version of the great Olympic Decathlon was to have his name engraved and placed on a large walnut plaque which would sport the names of the decathlon winners year after year.

John Felt, Sophomore, and Bob Spickelmier, Junior, represented Enid High in the State Finals in the mile run at Norman. Before the finals, Felt had a best time of 4:35.3 and Spickelmier logged a 4:38.9. They were the only underclassmen in the race.

GOLF

The Enid High School golf team, 1956 State Champions, made up of three returning lettermen—Jim Wright, Dick Lambertz, Kenneth Murray—adding Edgar Wofford, had their first match with Ponca City, playing Ponca in a drizzling rain with the Poncans edging out the highly ranked Plainsmen for a win.

Enid High's second match was with El Reno at El Reno where the Plainsmen scored a victory with Jim Wright and Dick Lambertz pacing the golfers, shooting 76 and 77, respectively. Inclement weather prevented the Plainsmen from playing any more matches.

The Plainsmen were to have return matches with Ponca City and El Reno, and had matches scheduled with Harding and Northeast of Oklahoma City. Enid was to host the Mid-State Conference meet around the middle of April.

Plainsmen were to journey to Oklahoma City May 1 and 2 to defend their title for the State High School Championship Golf Crown.

MID-STATE SWIMMING CHAMPIONS

The E.H.S. Splashers opened the 1956-57 season by journeying to Wichita West for a dual meet. The Plainsmen lost this by a 56-19 margin. Tulsa Will Rogers visited the next meet and were victorious, 46-28. Ponca City was next and again the tankmen lost, with a score of 36-32. The Plainsmen were host to the Knights from Northwest Classen, and this time the scoreboard racked up the total points as 46-30, Emd's favor.

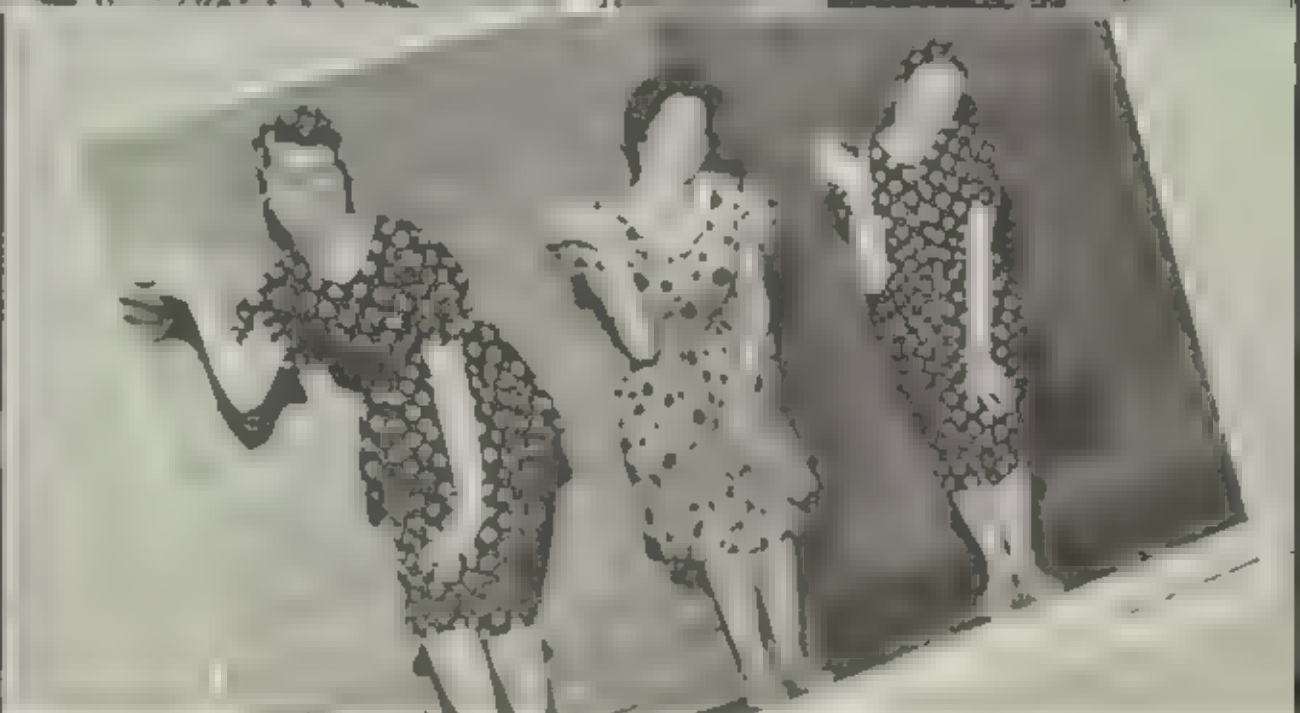

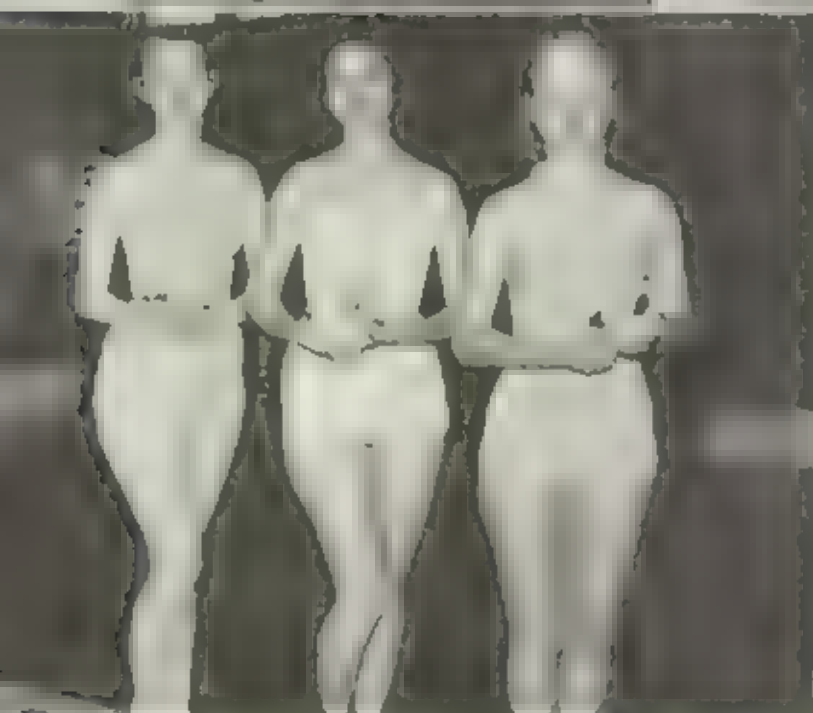

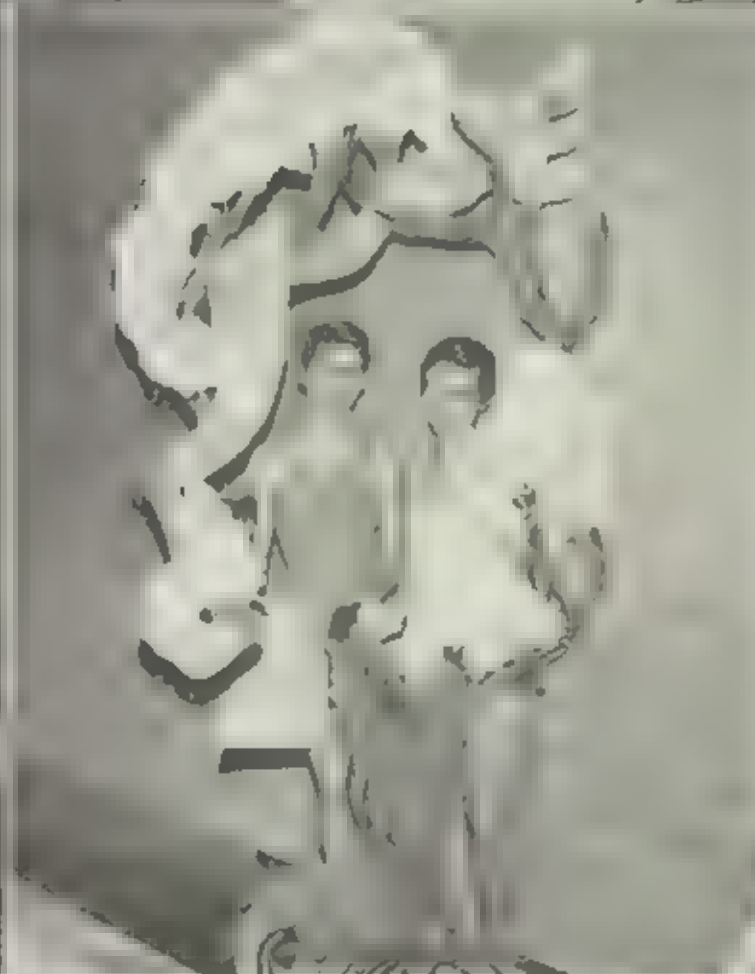

The splashers won the next meet, held at Capitol, 79-19. Capitol Hill came to Emd High the next week and again the Big Blue team was victorious with the chalk marking 66 points for the Plainsmen and 8 for the Redskins.

Traveling to Tulsa Rogers again, E.H.S. lost, 50-27. Ponca City visited and the home team came out on top once again, 38-30. The Strouplers hosted the Mid-State clash and won the championship, with the scores following: Emd, 64; Northwest Classen, 49; and Capitol Hill, 10. Thus the Splashers finished out the season with 5 won and 4 lost.

The stillness of a May day at Springs Park brings to the minds of all who have graduated from Enid High School thoughts of the colorful annual May Fete

Among the lavender hedges and the greenery
Dancing the May Day dance
A dreamy, dreamy scene that brings back tales
From a time when the world was young

Something about the atmosphere
A sense of joy and happiness
A day when the world was young
And the future was bright

As the sun sets and the day draws to a close
A sense of peace and contentment
For a moment, time stands still
And the world is at our feet

Next came the most beautiful sight
The Queen of May and her court
The little girls in their white dresses
With faces as bright as the sun

The royal court of the May Day
With their music and their dance
Oh, what a sight to see
As the night draws to its close

PRIDE OF E.H.S.

Before enthusiastic crowds, the E.H.S. "Big Blue" provided gay marches throughout the football season, made twelve marching appearances and played for the basketball games. Along with the traditional school song, "Our Director," better known to students as "Here's to Frid High School," the band played such numbers as "Them Basses" and "Instrumental."

The musicians made their first appearances with hardly one rehearsal on September 11, playing a few marching numbers at the county fair.

On the 15th of November, the band was invited to play at the Cherokee Strip celebration.

The Bandsters' first trip of the year was to Shawnee's homecoming game. Director Gerald Hemphill forgot to put the hats on the busses, but when the band arrived at Shawnee it proved to be a favorable mistake. The wind was blowing strong as usual, but no yellow plumes went flying in the breeze at that game.

The second trip was to Norman Band Day. One-hundred-twenty top marching bands from all over the state came for the marching contest. This was the day the E.H.S. band had been waiting for. All those early morning section rehearsals before school paid off. The essence of long hard work came through as The Pride Of E.H.S. marched off the contest field with the second place trophy and demonstrated their precision at the half-time ceremonies in front of 50,000 football fans at the O. U.-Nebraska game.

Band membership was reduced for concert season and played "Celebration Overture" and "Vanguard" for contest numbers at District held at Alva, March 20 and 21. The band won first at District and went on to the State contest at Stillwater. The concert band did a magnificent job as they did at Alva.

The annual Spring Song Concert, which was held at the school, highlighted the spring festivities for the Ford High School Band and Orchestra.

Next came Tri-State. The marching and concert band finished an excellent year by taking great honors in the Parade, marching contest, sight reading, and in concert.

After Tri-State the band membership was decreased as the seniors ended their band year two weeks early. The remaining Junior-Sophomore band played for the May Fete and the graduation ceremonies.

I've enjoyed my time as a student in your band. It's been a real nice time. I want to wish you all the best in the future. Best wishes, Jerry and

GIRLS' CHORUS

Leading the activities of the Girls' Chorus was the annual "Time To Sing" program in the school auditorium in April. Songs that thrilled the audience and which will remain dear in the memories of the girls who made the program possible were

"Cradle Song," "Poor Man Lazarus," "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," "Count Your Blessings," "Somebody Loves Me" and "The Swan"

Also on the list of activities was the annual "Christmas Vesper" and the May Fete serenade to the graduating Seniors and the May Queen

ORCHESTRA

Hours of practice and hard work pay off.

Members of the End High Orchestra of 1957 found this out as they worked through this school year. Honors were given and honors were received gratefully.

Eleven members received music letters. Five were privileged to play with the End-Phillips Symphony Orchestra at the University. They were: Tim McCook, Sue Thorne, Swanie Roe, Lynn Bevers, and Bruce Trinkle.

One of the highlights of the school year was attending All-State Orchestra on the campus of the University of Oklahoma. Attending were: Swanie Roe, Melvin Dennis, Sue Thorne, Lynn Bevers, and Bruce Trinkle. Swanie Roe, outstanding F.H.S. musician, played first chair bassoon while the others received chairs high in their sections.

Climaxing a great year was the district contest in Alva and Tri-State here in End, which the orchestra attended, and the spring contest given in April.

MIXED CHORUS

Guy Frazier Harrison, director of the renowned Oklahoma City Symphony, takes time out of his busy schedule to direct the chorus.

"Time To Sing," the annual Chorus program in which both the Mixed Chorus and Girls' Chorus participate, climaxed the year as the curtain fell on a dramatic presentation of "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor."

A star-studded program entitled "Stars On Parade" was included in this musical presentation. It consisted of solos and ensembles of outstanding performing groups in the Mixed Chorus. They were backed up partially by the Glee Clubs.

Included on "Stars On Parade" were: Jerry Klien, Larry Haines, Zella Murray, John Engle, Don Hardgrave and Naomi Duerksen, soloists; Kay Creed, Bruce Snethen, Eldon Young, Leonard Davis, David Stratton, Dixie Bruce, Larry

The '56-'57 busy season and many trips this year. Perhaps the most important was the taking of about 20 corps members to Los Angeles, California, where the corps won fourth place in the Legion Drum and Bugle contest and first place in the parade where corps marched over the U. S. Capitol. While in Los Angeles the corps played at the premier of "Oklahoma" and at the world famous Hotel Statler. Side lights of the trip were the tour of Disneyland, Beverly Hills, Grand Canyon, and a swim in the Lev Pacific.

Fifteen other appearances were made during the '56-'57 season. Among these were trips to Great Bend and Emporia, Kansas, for marching contests. Others included the 89'ers parade at Guthrie, Memorial Day Services, the Springs Park Concert, Soap Box Derby, State Legion Convention at Oklahoma City, Vance Air Force Base, Cherokee Strip, Enid High football game, Tonkawa homecoming and Wellington, Kansas. For the twelfth year they walked off with the State Championship at Tri-State. An appearance was also made at the Dallas Fair and Cotton Bowl.

"THE LITTLE DOG LAUGHED"

"The Little Dog Laughed," according to an old rhyme, "to see such a sport." But chances are even greater that he never saw such an unusual sport as the situation comedy, under the direction of Mrs. Delvte Poindester, presented by the Senior Class, November 8, in the End High School auditorium.

Kay Mason headed the cast as Laurie Huntington, a college Sophomore majoring in psychology. As Laurie started applying her psychology to her family, she created the plot. Jerry Kunkel portrayed the part of Sidney Huntington, Laurie's forceful, but good natured father, who tears his used-car dealership is about to be snatched up by a rival. Loretta Cole played Martha, Laurie's mother, who is ordinarily poised, gracious, and warm-hearted, but is now overworked and anxious, and nervous because of the fear of her husband losing his car dealership. The part of Wally Huntington, a high school Junior of easy going mockery, was played by Derel Schrock.

Gus, the fussy and funny housekeeper, was played by Cleo Mielke, whose "feller" was Horatio P. Honeywell, with nothing on the brain but birds, portrayed by Tim McCook. Claudia Shannon played Joan Wood, a sweet high school Junior after Wally. Mark Bradford, who took Laurie by the hand and heart, was Terry Marshall. Ted Wood, Sid's business rival, and his wife, Lillian, were played by Gale Webb and Pat Goley.

Glenda Braithwaite, Lunda Aurell, Francis McManemin, Cynthia Muir, and Carolyn Campbell were sophisticated ladies who came to Martha's tea.

Donna Tinder, Brad Mason, dog, Pat Goley, Gale Webb, Claudia Shannon, Derel Schrock, Jerry Kunkel, Loretta Cole.

Mike Webber, David Hamilton, David Poyner, Jim Langkiet, and Don Miller admire beautiful Carol Baker, a southern belle in the junior play.

"EVER SINCE EVE"

"This junior play was the most," remembers the Junior Class of 1957. The credit was due not only to the fine cast of Judy Collier, Larry Woods, John Rainey, Steve Cool, Sarah Benefiel, Janice Overtstreet, Stefani Gurwell, David Friesen, Johnny Gritz, Carol Baker, Mike Webber, David Hamilton, David Poyner, Jim Langkiet, and Don Miller, but also to the excellent help of the student assistants as well. They were Sue Wright, Myrna Wilson, Don Hardgrave, Marguerite Wright, Barbara Bernstein, Janice Steed, and John Pash as the Student Executive Committee to Mrs. Pondexter, director. Dan Thomas, Ray Carter, Dick Teurman, Rowland Carter, Susie Lamerton, Deanna Crawford, Sylvia McWhirter, Linda Pratz, Ann Scaling, Delbert McGugin, Sharon Kincannon, Delores Rouse, Virginia Mathis, Eleanor Krause, Sue Jones, Letha Tate, Norma Barnes, Linda Gammon, Jan Carnell, Eddie Hume, Mary McKee, Dennis Eaton, Kathleen Roark, Pat Wasmiller, Frank Perchau, and Kay Creed were the "behind the scenes" crew.

The plot revolved around the life of a student editor of the school and static from the pests (women) who tried to steal his strong position on the paper. A very informal protest was the life of the play to the extent that some Juniors of '57 may tell you that people literally rolled in the aisles. The unanswered question is whether or not the custodians had previously waxed the floors.

Larry Woods, Sara Benefiel, Steve Cool, and Janice Overtstreet are gathering second hand merchandise to sell to help raise money for their school newspaper.

"A MAN CALLED PETER"

Last play to be given this year was the third annual Thespian play, "A Man Called Peter," adapted from the book by Catherine Marshall.

This is the story of a youth-minded minister who won over the hearts of youth and most adults alike. With the constant support of his wife, he managed to stem the tide of opposition from elder members of the congregation and a United States Senator who was bent on corporal punishment of a young offender.

Peter Marshall, the young minister, was played by Johnny Walker; his wife, Catherine, by Kay Creed. The role of their five-year-old son, Peter John, was handled masterfully by Ricky Hardy, a first-grader from Harrison Grade School. Allan Talbot, the young dominated nephew of the Bickle Sisters was played by Terry Marshall. His elderly maiden aunts, Judith and Jesse Bickle were portrayed by Eleanor Krausse and Kay Moxley. Sue Matlack played Susan Grant, the girl who was doubtful about marriage. Her mother, Marian Grant, a successful career woman, was Annette Peterson and Steven, her father who seemed defeated by life, was Joe Brisben. George Yost, the confused young man engaged to Susan, was Howard Roe.

The other characters portrayed were Joe Keating, an unfortunate who had migrated to Washington from the slums, was Derel Schrock. Senator James K. Polk, a U. S. Senator and an authority on juvenile delinquency, was Bill Green. Nancy Everetts, "one of the gang" who frequented the Marshall home, was Myrna Wilson. Barbara Logan, another girl who considered the Marshalls popular, was Rudena Krausse. Hulda, the only maid in captivity who could clean a room and make it look dirtier, was Julia Giles.

Technical directors for the play were Carol Baker and Steve Cool. Kay Mason, Chuck Page, and Glenda Braithwaite were student directors.

YOUTH TRAFFIC COURT

The school year of '56-'57 marked the advent of a new method of coping with the teen-age driving problem. This year a juvenile traffic court staffed by high school officials such as is used in Tulsa and Norman was introduced in Lind. The roster of officials included two judges, one from the Senior Class and one from the Junior Class; four attorneys, two Seniors and two Juniors; a bailiff, and two clerks, one from F.H.S. and the other from Memorial High School.

The Youth Traffic Court operated in the procedure of a city or county court and held sessions in the District Court Room in the County Court House usually once a month to hear cases of school-age violators. In all, over 200 cases were heard during the year. The Youth Court movement was instigated by Municipal Judge and local attorney Robert L. Gregory. Student officials were elected from the student body.

The elective court officials were Derel Schrock, Senior judge; Blaine Smith, Jr., Junior judge; Gary Easton and Leonard Harrison, Senior attorneys; Bill Green and Ray Carter, Junior attorneys; Ronnie Hitchcock, bailiff, and Pat Felt, who moved away later in the year, Luther Elliott, Jr., the elective court clerk for the '57-'58 school year, assumed official duties immediately following his election.

The other officials elected for the coming year are Paul Asfahl, Junior judge; Bob Hill and Charles Gates, Junior attorneys, and Eddie Hume and Don Hardgraves, bailiffs. Blaine Smith, Jr., Bill Green, and Ray Carter will move into their offices in their senior year.

RADIO

The doors of the KGWA radio station were opened at six o'clock in the morning by new hands of the F.H.S. Radio Class. This was the day radio students tried out what they had learned from their study of Radio techniques. The entire class took part in running the station for a whole day, and much to their surprise everything went smoothly.

The television station, KGEO, also saw the presence of the Radio class, under the direction of Miss Una Lee Voigt. The radio class presented one Malt Shop program furnishing all talent from the Radio Class. The theme of this program was "The Wheel of Democracy." Eight students presented different phases of American democracy.

The Radio Class also entered various speech meets throughout Oklahoma which qualified speakers to enter into state competition. At the end of these meets four Radio students were eligible to enter the state contest.

Dramatic talents were also shown as the class presented two radio plays, one of which qualified for the state contest.

Local business clubs and organizations often called upon members of the class to provide entertainment at their meetings and social functions. Local contests were held, sponsored by organizations interested in the youth. Original orations were entered in these contests by some Radio students and worthwhile prizes were awarded to winners.

THANK YOU, ADVERTISERS!

Members of the QUILL ANNUAL STAFF wish to express their appreciation to the business men and women of Enid who have made this 1967 edition of the QUILL possible.

— THE STAFF

Mr. Duckett
I just got in this class by accident
but I'm certainly glad I did. I have enjoyed the people in it so much that I always bless you and keep you happy and healthy.
Kallie Duckett

To just about the greatest teacher I know. It has been a long 3 years but I think the best one was in your class

Ralph
Rogers

- Mrs. Duckett -

I really have enjoyed being in your homeroom and biology
class this year!
I really have learned a lot from you!! (Even how to catch those wrig-gly bugs - oh, I mean insects!) In my books
you really rate high!!
Good luck always,

Linda
Cashon

Mr. Duckett

I sure have enjoyed being in your class and I've learned a lot.

Carol
Watkins

Mr. Duckett -

You're one of my best teachers I've ever had, and I promise I'll collect my leaves next time.
Best of luck.

Robert Coffey

Mr. Duckett
I have enjoyed being in your Biology class.
It's been a wonderful year and you're a wonderful teacher.
We're seeing you
around next year.
Beth Johnson

Mr. Duckett -

I heard when I came to enroll that if I couldn't get Mr. Duckett for biology, not to take it. So I ran real fast and got you and now I'm a spreader of the same words.
